The Owner understands my refund policy as stated on my web site www.alwdt.com which states there are no refunds once Orientation class has been shared via email Zoom Recording which is done within 24 hour of registration and payment. Initial ____.

White's Dog Training LLC will exercise reasonable care and instruction to the Owner and their dog during enrollment time. In consideration of the services, the Owner expressly waives and relinquishes any claims against Al White's Dog Training LLC, its owners and employees relating to services provided pursuant to this agreement, including damage or injury to the Owners dog or damage or injury caused by the Owners dog, except those claims arising from willful misconduct by Al White's Dog Training LLC and further agrees to indemnify Al White's Dog Training LLC against all claims. The Owner understands that dogs, like all animals, can be unpredictable and difficult to control at all times. It is possible that you or your dog may harm, or be harmed by another dog. The Owner further understands that his possibility is an unavoidable risk when dogs participate in training in such close proximity. The Owner assumes the risk of harm to myself, any persons who accompany me, or my dog (s) and shall not seek to recover damages against Al White's Dog Training LLC, its owners and employees for any harm or damage suffered, except those claims arising from willful misconduct by Al White's Dog Training LLC. Initial ____.

When signed up for private sessions, the Owner understand that cancellation of more than one session with less than 24 hours notice will mean forfeit of that session. Once registered, I will send you the Orientation link and expect you get through those things before we schedule our first session. If you do not schedule your private sessions within one month from payment/ Orientation, I will not be able to give you priority on scheduling unless you have had a medical reason why you can not commit.
